

Ms. Maria Luisa BUZELLI, Italy

Luisa is a Research Fellow at Bocconi University, where she works on the European project HEU-EFS Harmonized approach to early feasibility studies for Medical Devices in the European Union, which aims to formulate recommendations for the establishment of an Early Feasibility Studies Program within the EU, with a focus on ensuring patient safety and enhancing the EU single market competitiveness.

Before joining Bocconi, Luisa worked at The Health Foundation (UK) as a Policy officer, developing health system approaches to addressing patients' social needs and assessing health systems' performance.

Before then, Luisa was a Consultant at the WHO European Office for Investment for Health and Development, where she focused on the social determinants of health and identified policies to reduce health inequalities.
