

Deputy Director EIT Health in France. Jérôme FABIANO, France

Jérôme Fabiano has worked for more than 10 years in the health and health innovation sector in international positions. Holder of a master's degree in international relations and European Affairs obtained at the Sorbonne, he has a double degree from the Skema Business School with a Master of Science in Management and Strategy as well as a Specialized Master's degree in Knowledge Management and Competitive Intelligence.

He began his career at Axa in Life Insurance. He then joined a national health innovation cluster in Paris to provide a scientific, technological, and economic monitoring service in order to develop and finance innovative health projects and to support companies internationally. He continued his career at Allianz Global Healthcare in the international affinity life insurance and reinsurance department.

He now serves as Deputy Director at Eit Health France, an agency of the European Commission gathering more a community of more than 100 organizations in Europe and which has invested more than 250 million euros, trained more than 30,000 people and accelerated more than 1,600 start-ups in innovation in health in Europe since its creation in 2016.