EHRA is a well-acknowledged association with multifaceted aims related to improvement of arrhythmia healthcare quality and promotion of clinical and research science.

I had the privilege of participating in EHRA from several posts and thus contributing to the fulfilment of some of these tasks for the last 10 years. All these years I have provided input with dedication, consistency and hard work and I had the privilege to work together with well-respected members of the EHRA community in a fruitful and efficient manner.

In this context, my main motivation to join the EHRA Executive Board stems from my will to work actively and fulfil important tasks focusing on balanced participation of young and female cardiologists and colleagues from suboptimally represented European countries in EHRA activities but above all to enhance the reputation and visibility of EHRA.

5. How will you combine your EHRA position with your daily clinical/research workload?
